HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE.

THE FAMOUS REMEDY FOR COUGHS, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA AND CONSUMPTION.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS! The great success of HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE has induced a number of unprincipled persons to make imitations, each calling his medicine "Bronchitis Cure," with the object of deceiving the simple-minded, and so getting a sale for an imitation which has none of the beneficial effects that HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE has. Consequently it has become necessary to draw your attention to this fact, and to request you in your own interests to be particular to ask for HEARNE'S, and to see that you get it.

HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE. Small Size, 2s 6d; Large Size, 4s 6d. Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors, and by the Proprietor, W. G. HEARNE, Chemist, Geelong, Victoria. Forwarded to any address, when not obtainable locally.

NOTICE.—Hearne's Bronchitis Cure, No. 1A, does NOT contain any poison within the meaning of the Act. It is equally beneficial for the youngest child and the most aged person.

IMPERIAL DEFENCE.

THE COLONIES' PART.

DEBATE IN THE COMMONS.

CONTRIBUTION NOT DEMANDED.

VOLUNTARY ASSISTANCE WELCOMED.

LONDON, Feb. 16.

In the House of Commons last night, in the debate on the Address in Reply, Mr. Harold Cox (Liberal), M.P., formerly secretary of the Cobden Club, moved an amendment—"That it is desirable that the Colonial Conference should discuss the importance of the colonies more fully participating in the cost of defending the Empire."

Mr. A. J. Balfour said we ought not to treat the matter in a bargaining spirit. He did not believe that the naval estimates would be diminished one farthing if we lost the self-governing colonies.

A TREATY OF TRANSFER POSSIBLE.

While the colonies through the Imperial Conference acquired great strength and security, the connection also involved some dangers, owing to the Empire touching world politics at many points not directly concerning the colonies. It was impossible seriously to ask the colonies to vote money which somebody else would spend. A more possible proposal would be to arrange a treaty under which the colonies would transfer their troops and ships to Imperial control in the event of Imperial complications.

Mr. Balfour earnestly deprecated pressing the proposal for such a treaty, and while not abandoning the hope of closer political relation between the motherland and the colonies, that ideal was not now in sight. The loose organization of the Empire had its advantages and its disadvantages, but he was sure it would be better to rely on voluntary assistance than attempt to give it a rigid Imperial character.

We would get more out of colonial loyalty, voluntary and patriotic enthusiasm than from any hard and fast organization. (Cheers.)

THE EMPIRE A FAMILY.

Mr. Winston Churchill, Parliamentary Secretary for the Colonies, declared Mr. Balfour's speech as inspired by profound political wisdom. Though the services which the motherland and the colonies mutually rendered were very great it would be wrong to draw invidious comparisons respecting the contributions and benefits which were reciprocally interchanged.

Mr. Churchill continued: "The Empire is not a business proposition, but it is based on the principle of the family. It is not a syndicate. The motherland declines to haggle or bargain with her children respecting the precise amount of military contribution or respecting commercial treaties. Without the colonies we should still be compelled to maintain the fleet."

While Mr. Churchill deprecated any hard commercial bargain, he held that the duty of the colonies was to contribute on occasion to our common defensive needs. It would make no demand whatever. They would give voluntarily, and we should be content to wait for a solid broadening of the harvest in future years.

Mr. Cox's amendment was withdrawn.

APPLAUSE OF THE PRESS.

THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

UNIFORM ORGANISATION WANTED.

The press generally applauds Mr. Balfour's and Mr. Churchill's policy of Imperial defence so far as the colonies are concerned.

The "Times" says that regarding the remoteness of any central Imperial political organization, Mr. Balfour went further than was to be expected. The principle has been recognized in the periodic conferences, which might become continuous instead of intermittent.

Regarding defence, the "Times" says that there might be common consultation between the motherland and the colonies to ensure uniform organization of forces and some uniform plan of co-operation.

WORCESTER STILL DISFRANCHISED.

PUNISHMENT FOR BRIBERY.

LONDON, Feb. 15.

The House of Commons last night rejected a motion by Sir F. Acland-Hood that a new writ be issued for the election of a member for Worcester, the latter having been unseated on account of corrupt practices. The Government did not resist the motion.

Sir Acland-Hood, later in the evening, in the course of an address to the National Society of Conservative Agents, declared the decision of the House of Commons as an unequivocally dry trick.

Worcester has been practically disfranchised for at least another year.

MISS LAKE'S MURDER.

LONDON, Feb. 15.

A tailor named Boyer has been arrested for complicity in the murder of Miss Lake, an Englishwoman, in a wood near Epsom, in October last, and in connection with which a clerk named Alfred Land recently made a confession of guilt.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

A BILL INTRODUCED.

LONDON, Feb. 15.

The supporters of woman suffrage are greatly delighted at Mr. W. H. Dickinson, having drawn first place for the discussion of the bill he proposes to introduce in the House of Commons to extend the franchise to women.

OLD-AGE PENSIONS.

A DANGER TO FREETRADE.

LONDON, Feb. 16.

The "Spectator" writes on the subject of old-age pensions, says that if the Government grants old-age pensions it will require a tariff which will betray the cause of freetrade, whether intended to do so or not.

TARIFF REFORM.

MR. BALFOUR SEES SIGNS.

COALESCEMENT OF UNIONIST VIEWS.

LONDON, Feb. 16.

Mr. A. J. Balfour, in addressing the National Union of Conservative and Constitutional Associations, said he saw unmistakable signs of coalescence of Unionist views in the direction of a safe, sound, and sober policy of fiscal reform, based on the grounds of absolute necessity, for enlarging the basis of taxation and the vital need of safeguarding the great productive industries against unfair competition, the need of a wider foreign market, and the need of securing the great colonial markets of the future.

Mr. Balfour declared that the Government had no constructive policy. There were no threats of the House of Lords, but the Government was not possessed of the moral position to enable it to revolutionize its historic Constitution.

INDIAN SEDITION.

NEWSPAPER DIRECTORS SENTENCED.

LONDON, Feb. 16.

The proprietor and the editor of the native newspaper "Punjab" have been charged at Lahore with sedition, in publishing seditious and wicked statements. The accused pleaded publication in good faith of an unverified rumour.

The proprietor was sentenced to two years' imprisonment and was fined 1000 rupees (£125). The editor was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and was ordered to pay a fine of 100 rupees (£12.5).

After the sentence was pronounced a crowd of Hindus paraded the streets of the city, gesticulating and shouting European.

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY.

APPEAL FOR RE-ENDOWMENT.

MILLION AND A HALF ASKED FOR.

LONDON, Feb. 16.

The Duke of Devonshire, Chancellor of Cambridge University, in the course of a letter to the press, earnestly appeals for subscriptions for the re-endowment of Cambridge University. He declares that altogether a capital sum of £1,500,000, apart from any pension fund for the professors, might without extravagance be immediately expended in the equipment and provision of the staff.

The "Times" suggests the supplementing of like subscriptions by the ultimate tapping of existing sources of realisable wealth, by suppressing some of the smaller colleges and by amalgamating others.

MINERS UNABLE TO VOTE.

LONDON, Feb. 15.

The Miners' Union in Johannesburg complains that Lord Selborne's refusal to proclaim a public holiday on polling-day will cause the disfranchisement of the mine-workers, many of whom are occupied as far as 40 miles from the electoral division in which they are registered.

Lord Elgin, Secretary of State for the Colonies, has been asked to intervene.

ASIATICS IN TRANSVAAL.

SOME RESTRICTIONS DISALLOWED.

EDUCATING THE COLONY.

LONDON, Feb. 16.

The Earl of Elgin, Secretary of State for the Colonies, in accordance with the views of the deputation of British Indians in the Transvaal, has disallowed the Asiatic Law Amendment Ordinance passed by the Transvaal Legislature for the registration of Asiatics, and the expulsion of those who are unable to prove that they are lawfully resident in the country.

The Earl of Selborne, Governor of the Transvaal, favoured the ordinance. The Earl of Elgin, in sanctioning the Vrededorp Stands Ordinance, said he disagreed with the restriction preventing Indians holding land.

The "Westminster Gazette" writes that the Earl of Elgin's decision regarding the registration of Asiatics will tend to educate the Transvaal to a fuller sense of its part in a great Empire of many races.

The Indians complain that all the restrictions imposed on them by the Boers have been made more stringent by the views of the deputation of British Indians in the Transvaal, and that the last straw has been the Asiatic registration amendment ordinance of all Asiatics, and for the deportation of those who were not lawfully in the country.

Under the Asiatic Law Amendment Ordinance, the Government must produce a registration certificate on demand by any policeman, with such marks of identification as the identification being the impress of all the fingers of the right hand on the registration certificate. This amended ordinance has now been disallowed.

The Asiatic Law Amendment Ordinance was also disallowed by the Earl of Elgin, and the Government proposed to bring in a bill to permit the people should pay a 4 per cent. on the registration fee for a registration certificate. Having less than 4 per cent. of the population of the Transvaal, the influence of the Asiatics would be reduced, and the people, instead of being flooded out, would be able to grow crops. Reclamation of the shires would be possible.

MR. BENT'S POLICY.

NUMEROUS NEW MEASURES PROPOSED.

PRESERVATION OF STATE RIGHTS.

LONDON, Feb. 16.

The Premier, Mr. T. B. Bent, delivered his policy speech at North Brighton last night before a fairly large audience.

He claimed that the policy the Ministry had placed before the House of Commons had been strictly adhered to. Altogether 178 Acts had been passed by Parliament. The members of the Mackinnon and Pease party had agreed to join the Ministerialists in the Transvaal. The reason for this was that the Commonwealth referendum had decided that March was the best month for the elections. (Laughter.) The elections would be held on March 12. The Government intended to go in for railway construction. It had been authorized to borrow about £1,000,000, not only for railways but tramways in the country and suburbs. They intended to construct tramways in the suburbs, so that the timber might be used by their own people.

Another matter for consideration was the construction of the railways from steam to electricity. It was intended to amend the law relating to the registration of Asiatics, and the Government proposed to bring in a bill to permit the people should pay a 4 per cent. on the registration fee for a registration certificate. Having less than 4 per cent. of the population of the Transvaal, the influence of the Asiatics would be reduced, and the people, instead of being flooded out, would be able to grow crops. Reclamation of the shires would be possible.

Having less than 4 per cent. of the population of the Transvaal, the influence of the Asiatics would be reduced, and the people, instead of being flooded out, would be able to grow crops. Reclamation of the shires would be possible.
